

CV

AGELIDOU EVANGELIA

eva8@otenet.gr

Mrs Evangelia Agelidou holds a bachelor in Biology and a PhD in didactic of Environmental Education. She is School Advisor on Science at secondary level of education, Greece. She has a long teaching experience in the field of science and Environmental Education in the higher and secondary level. Her research interests include teaching and learning methodologies according to modern learning theories and cognitive neurosciences. She is the co-author of various publications in scientific books, international journals as well as in international and national conferences.